1 Introduction

- 1.1 This study forms part of the evidence base for the Winchester District Development Framework. Its purpose is to identify the current role and function of settlements through a range of considerations, including the facilities and services they provide, to inform the rural settlement strategy in the Core Strategy. It will also provide the background to allocating non-strategic sites in the Development Management and Allocations Development Plan Document.
- 1.2 It is an update and extension of the background paper prepared to inform the Preferred Option version of the Core Strategy published in 2009 - settlement hierarchy covering the Market Towns and Rural Area.
- 1.3 The 2009 background paper set out a settlement hierarchy for the District based on the number of facilities and services available in each settlement and the size of their population. This was then translated into draft planning policy, sub-dividing the market towns and rural area into four levels according to the above provisions, with a corresponding development strategy for each. Whilst this approach was generally supported through the Preferred Option consultation, there were a number of matters raised. In particular, there was a lack of consensus about the right amount of new development which should be proposed in the development strategy for each level.
- 1.4 At that time there was much debate nationally as to the sustainability of rural settlements and how they could overcome the 'sustainability trap'. This matter was explored further by a specific study commissioned by the Government and undertaken by Matthew Taylor MP, its key findings and relevant recommendations are set out in the following sections of this report.
- 1.5 This paper updates the data previously collated and includes an updated methodology, informed both by the outcomes of the Department of Communities and Local Government Rural Masterplanning project undertaken by CABI (Commission for Architecture and the Built Environment) and comments received to the Blueprint consultation in autumn 2010.
- 1.6 In common with the Preferred Option approach, each settlement is assessed against the number of facilities and services available. In addition other elements are taken into account including an assessment of how well settlements are connected by public transport, and their spatial and functional relationships with each other.

2 Spatial context of Winchester District

- 2.1 The Winchester District is a predominately rural area, coving over 65,000 hectares (approximately 225 square miles). In addition to the urban areas of Winchester and Whiteley, there are over 50 smaller settlements. These range from larger villages of a few thousand population, to small hamlets of a few dwellings originally serving the agricultural industry.
- 2.2 Studies undertaken for the Local Development Framework (LDF) have revealed that there are three distinct economic areas within the District:
- Winchester Town (the historic core and immediate surroundings of Winchester itself)
 - The South Hampshire Urban Areas (focussing on the southern urban parts of the District, particularly Whiteley and the development area of West of Waterlooville).
 - The Market Towns and the rural area (covering all the market towns, smaller villages and rural area).
- 2.3 This background paper focuses on informing the development strategy for the Market Towns and Rural Area.
- 2.4 A significant part of the District now lies within the South Downs National Park, which became the Local Planning Authority for that area on 1 April 2011. Eventually the National Park Authority will devise its own distinct planning policies, but for the time being there will be a jointly-adopted Core Strategy covering the whole of Winchester District. Therefore the Market Towns and Rural Area includes settlements within the National Park.
- 2.5 The work undertaken for this background paper shows that the settlements in the South Downs National Park have functional relationships with towns and villages outside the Park, many performing a 'gateway' role.

3 Policy Background

National Policy Background

- 3.2 The principle of sustainability and the creation of sustainable communities is well established in Government guidance. The 2009 background paper outlined key guidance at both national and regional level. This guidance is still relevant today (although the Government has announced its intention to abolish Regional Strategies through the Localism Bill). Indeed the Localism Bill introduces the concept of Neighbourhood Plans to be produced by individual communities and data collated in this paper will be able to be used to inform that process if required.
- 3.3 The Commission for Rural Communities has also published a range of reports on various aspects of rural living/economy, and in 2008 they brought the Rural Coalition together (comprising Action with Communities in Rural England; Campaign to Protect Rural England; The Country Land and Business Association; The Local Government Group; The Royal Town Planning Institute and the Town and Country Planning Association). In August 2010 the Rural Coalition published a report 'The Rural Challenge', which through a series of propositions aims to achieve its key message of "Creating and maintaining sustainable rural communities".
- 3.4 Of particular relevance to this paper is the Taylor Review published in July 2008. In September 2007 the Government asked Mathew Taylor MP to conduct a review to investigate how the planning system could better support the sustainability of rural communities, focusing on the rural economy and affordable housing to 'further support the creation and maintenance of sustainable, socially inclusive, economically vibrant and mixed rural communities – within the context of existing protection for the natural environment.'
- 3.5 The outcomes of his study are set out in 'Living Working Countryside' often referred to as 'The Taylor Review' and can be viewed on the DCLG website at www.communities.gov.uk/publications/planningandbuilding/livingworkingcountryside
- 3.6 That report made 48 recommendations to the Government including the steps necessary for the planning system to play its role in realising the vision of mixed, thriving and sustainable rural communities. The Government's response to the Taylor Review, published in March 2009, can be viewed at: www.communities.gov.uk/publications/planningandbuilding/responsematthewtaylor, where it was concluded that "a one size fits all approach cannot do justice to the diversity of rural communities and experiences...sustainability is not about choosing the environment over development but about recognising both and striking a balance".
- 3.7 Consequently, in response to Recommendations 4 and 10 which suggested the publication of a new design guide to assist local authorities with best practice in community design, the Government made available funds to explore this issue further. It published a Rural Masterplanning Fund prospectus in November 2008, inviting local authorities to bid for support on the basis of -

“Authorities who present the most compelling vision for their futures would receive a package of resources, and be given expert support to help develop their vision into workable masterplans for their areas. The resulting plans, and the experience and expertise developed through the process, would be used to develop a range of rural-proofed tools to support other authorities to build on these exemplar programmes, and possible future national policies.”

- 3.8 Winchester in partnership with East Hampshire District Council submitted a bid and were successful in receiving support and this is set out in detail in the latter sections of this report. The outcomes of that work have been influential in the revised methodology adopted to assessing the role and function of the various settlements in the Winchester District.

Local Policy Background

3.9 The Core Strategy Preferred Option was published in 2009 for consultation. This included a policy setting out a settlement hierarchy for the Market Towns and Rural Area (MTRA 2), which was informed by the 2009 background paper.

3.10 Following the change of government in 2010 and the emphasis placed on 'localism', Winchester City Council undertook a community engagement exercise called 'Blueprint.' (www.community-blueprint.co.uk).

• Blueprint

3.11 The Council invited local people to discuss the needs of their local communities looking ahead 20 years or so. The responses gave some clear messages as to the issues currently facing the more rural parts of the District; as well as local communities' aspirations for the future. These responses also identified a need for both small scale housing developments together with small units for employment purposes to promote new businesses in rural areas, but there was a lack of consensus as to the actual quantum of development that may be appropriate.

3.12 The inclusive nature of Blueprint resulted in a range of communities and groups within communities commenting on how they felt their settlement should change. Many common issues were raised affecting both large and small rural settlements:-

Table 1: Common issues raised by Blueprint

Topic	Common issues raised
Housing	Recognise need for development to retain/support local economy Acknowledge sustainable locations should accommodate a corresponding level of growth Need 2/3 bed dwellings – for older people; families and young people Need low cost rented/affordable accommodation Sheltered housing / specialist care home for elderly Recognition of the need to promote local identity and rural character New homes to be energy efficient
Employment	Faster broadband is essential for rural businesses Welcome tourism and need to maximise gateway locations to South Downs National Park Support for new small business units – starter/light industrial units

	Recognise need to support and retain local shops and services which provide local jobs
Community	Request improved car parking facilities Greater range of leisure facilities Need to address climate change and promotion of low carbon economy Retain/improve existing services schools, medical etc. Concern about impact on infrastructure if more development occurs

- 3.13 These comments highlight that many rural communities recognise the need for more development, albeit at an appropriate scale, to ensure that they can continue to remain attractive locations to live and work and retain viable services.
- 3.14 Blueprint also generated numerous comments that are not related to spatial planning and these are being taken forward by the Council's Community Planning officers who will liaise with parishes as to the best way to explore how these can be addressed.

- Rural Masterplanning

- 3.15 The fund established by the Government via the Department for Communities and Local Government plus the Homes and Communities Agency was available until the end of March 2011. Winchester City Council in partnership with East Hampshire District Council successfully bid for Commission for Architecture and the Built Environment's (CABE) assistance to the value of £15,000. This was to facilitate and guide the authorities in developing a strategy that focused on the rural areas in their Districts and drew out relevant rural issues to inform the respective Core Strategies and to ensure the approach for rural settlements was robust and 'future proofed'. This equated to 20 'enabler' days, plus support from a member of the CABE staff and included supporting tasks such as project set up and reporting.
- 3.16 The project commenced in March 2010, where it was proposed that the project should be carried out in 4 stages :-

Stage 1: review the existing evidence base for rural settlement hierarchies focussing on key issues of sustainability, affordable housing and economic vitality, together with design considerations through examining a sample of settlements in detail, to refine a methodology for evaluating the development potential of villages based on sustainability considerations.

Stage 2: to develop a profile for each of the case study settlements following site visits and a detail audit of the settlements. The profiling format to then be developed and adapted to suit smaller settlements.

Stage 3: promotion and facilitation of a series of events in the case study settlements to test the profile and discuss development capacity through examining a series of sustainability criteria.

Stage 4: strategy formulation following stage 3.

3.17 As the project evolved, it became clear that the above four stages were very ambitious given the amount of enabler time that had been allocated. It was agreed that the project would focus on moving from having a series of settlement hierarchies defined according to what facilities they had, to one that also explored what settlements needed and could accommodate, looking at a wider range of issues that affect rural communities and could affect the sustainability of such communities in the future.

3.18 Therefore the final work programme included the following elements:

sustainability assessment criteria – develop a series of criteria to assess a range of factors for either individual settlements or a cluster of settlements including vulnerabilities and risks.

settlement profile – update the profile template to reflect comments/suggestions made at an officer workshop held in September 2010 settlement hierarchy – provide a critique/commentary on each local authority's approach to defining their settlement hierarchy.

final report – to pull together the various elements of work undertaken including a series of next steps/action plan.

3.19 A summary of the findings of each of these stages is set out below:

3.20 Sustainability assessment criteria – this element of the study included a brief commentary on the risk factors associated with rural living in terms of fuel and travel costs, and included a comprehensive spreadsheet to assess such risks for each settlement.

3.21 This focused on the difficulties and expenses rural communities face when compared to urban areas, for example travelling a distance to work, the cost of heating a home (often not connected to mains gas). At the same time rural services find it harder to stay in business as their costs also rise. This provides additional risks as people have to travel further to access more everyday services adding a greater burden to those already experiencing transport poverty through costs or not being able to drive due to age or infirmity.

3.22 Fuel poverty is compounded by lack of choice, resulting in a reliance on oil which is more costly than other fuels, and older rural homes cost more to heat and maintain.

3.23 This stage of the study identified that rural settlements risk four potential consequences :-

“1) That those on lower incomes experience “transport poverty” and “fuel poverty”, with those unable / unwilling to move being locked into social and economic deprivation;

2) Rural settlements depopulate of older people who cannot drive, families with younger teenagers, and those on lower incomes. This has social consequences for those unable to stay in the area where they have grown up or lived for some time.

3) As a result of selective depopulation (see risk 2), rural settlements become more homogenous and are only habitable by those on higher incomes – and particularly older people.

4) Rural areas then have a dearth of people available to fulfil lower paid jobs – notably carers. If this is combined with an aging population (see risk 3) then there is further risk of social deprivation as those needing care are unable to stay in their own homes or move to care homes close to their friends and family.”

- 3.24 Combinations of these risks can influence how vulnerable or robust a settlement is. Generally speaking settlements that do not have their own facilities and are poorly connected (via public transport) to other places for day to day facilities, combined with other risk factors (high proportion of older people; no. of people in fuel poverty etc) are more vulnerable to socio economic decline.
- 3.25 The report recognised that robustness can be maintained or improved by enabling facilities and services to locate and be viable in settlements or by providing non-car based access to these services in other locations. An element identified in the Taylor report is the contribution new development can make to the critical mass of a settlement so that facilities and services can be supported. Development does not all have to be in one settlement – clusters of settlements can provide a sufficient ‘market’ to support a facility.
- 3.26 Connectivity to facilities is measured by the distance that a resident would have to travel to reach those facilities without the use of a car, the timeliness of access that public transport provides and its convenience.
- 3.27 This part of the report was accompanied by a complex spreadsheet, where data from individual settlements could be assessed and then compared in a systematic manner. This stage required detailed data for each settlement, however at smaller settlement level, data is rarely available as it is only recorded at parish level or above. Given that the purpose of this part of the study was to allow a comparison between the settlements in the District, the spreadsheet was modified to reflect local circumstances and data that could be collated locally.
- 3.28 Settlement profile – the purpose of this would be to move beyond the quantitative considerations of population, connectivity, etc. CABE suggested that a way of understanding how a settlement functions and interacts with its neighbours as well as how it views its future, is to prepare a 'profile' for each. These are a way of summarising key facts and data for individual settlements, highlighting their characteristics and distinguishing between them in terms of the issues and opportunities they face. The CABE work emphasised the need to work closely with local communities in developing and completing the profiles.

3.29 Settlement hierarchy – This report endorsed the approach taken in the 2009 Settlement Hierarchy topic paper, concluding that the range of factors used was sound. However it suggested further work could be done to strengthen the approach further, including :

- Widening the range of services considered
- The quality of services
- The vulnerability of services
- The need for additional services
- Functional relationships between the settlements – 'Clusters'

3.30 In addition, this stage of the study also included a commentary on the relationship between the work on the settlement hierarchy and the Taylor Report. This concluded that, the use of a Rural Settlement Hierarchy or Framework will strengthen the Councils' approach to the 'rural-proofing' of planning policies by ensuring that they are sensitive to the very different settlement structure and form which characterises rural communities. This view is based on the following considerations:

- The sustainability of rural settlements is essentially dependent upon their quality of, and access to, core services which underpin the quality of rural life. These factors however are also the key criteria for evaluating the rural settlement hierarchy;
- Rural settlements operate as inter-dependent groupings in their use and support of services.
- Rural settlements or groupings also need to be differentiated in terms of their relative dependence on major urban settlements – whether they are separate rural service centres or merely detached 'urban' communities.
- The sustainability of rural communities is dependent particularly on the quality of access to jobs, services or other opportunities, and the affordability of housing. These are both dependent upon the relationships to the wider communities. Access issues are a key part of the evaluation of rural settlement hierarchies. Housing affordability is however dependent on wider housing market issues that are also linked to settlement hierarchies and relationships, but are not a function of the hierarchy necessarily.
- The focus of planning policy for rural communities is related to the vulnerability of their viability as communities in the light of their existing conditions and pressures for change. A central question for developing sustainable rural policies is the extent to which the pattern of service provision is a determinant or a consequence of social, economic and environmental change. New development (and therefore land-use policies) is rarely a solution in itself to these issues (i.e. it is unlikely that any settlement can 'build-out' of its problems) since they need to be complemented by more general spatial policies about the need for priorities for investment in the social, physical and environmental infrastructure of communities.

- The identification of vulnerable communities also helps refine the assessment of rural deprivation (and related priorities) since rural disadvantage is linked to be linked to the quality and access to core services as much as the status and characteristics of individuals.

3.31 The final report - for the project pulled together the above four elements and suggested a number of recommendations including testing the sustainability criteria and profiles; extending and refine these and applying to a wider sample of settlements to lead up to a review of the settlement hierarchy incorporating these various elements.

4 Revised Methodology

4.1 The following section describes how the above elements of the Rural Masterplanning work have been adapted and applied to the circumstances of the Winchester District.

- Sustainability assessment criteria

4.2 This element includes a comprehensive spreadsheet to analyse and compare a broad range of data on a settlement by settlement basis, to determine a 'score'.

4.3 It includes a number of factors :-

- Accessibility to facilities by settlement residents by public transport, foot or internet
- Number of facilities within a settlement
- Number of other places providing the closest facilities for the settlement

4.4 The lists of facilities was compiled taking into account previous data collected for the Settlement Hierarchy topic paper and expanded to reflect the advice of CABE:-

- Doctors/Health Centre (excluding dentists)
- Post Office
- Convenience store (e.g. bread, milk, eggs, toiletries, etc)
- Bigger weekly shop
- Railway Station
- Bank/Cash point
- Pub
- Leisure centre
- Library
- Primary School
- Secondary School
- Further Education (post 16)
- Village or church hall
- Prepared food outlet (e.g. café, restaurant, tea shop, takeaway)
- Children's play area
- Sports pitch

4.5 In addition other forms of 'connectivity' were included:-

- community transport
- internet connectivity
- petrol stations *
- car servicing/MOT/repairs*

(* the latter two elements included to recognise the high levels of car ownership in the Winchester rural area, as advised by CABE).

- 4.6 The main purpose of the spreadsheet is the creation of a connectivity matrix. The matrix demonstrates firstly how many key facilities and services are located within a settlement and secondly, for the facilities and services further afield, how easy it is to access them by public transport.
- 4.7 It was recognised that a key source of information for where local people go to access facilities is the local residents themselves. Therefore a questionnaire was sent to each Parish Council in the District asking the name of the village/town their residents are most likely to use for particular facilities. A sample is appended (Appendix 1).
- 4.8 Where a Parish Council completed a facilities checklist, their answers were used in the matrix. If no information was received from the Parish Council, then a range of data sources have been used to complete the matrix.

4.9 Each settlement is assessed against each of the above facilities using public transport information. Accessibility scores are calculated dependant upon frequency of service, distance to facility (the further away a facility is the lower the score) and hours of operation. Settlements with their own facilities score better than those without. The criteria are set out in table 3 below.

Table 3: Accessibility criteria

DISTANCE	HOURS OF ACCESS POSSIBLE BY BUS/TRAIN		ACCESSIBILITY OF FACILITY BY BUS/TRAIN	CONVENIENCE OF BUS/TRAIN JOURNEY
If the closest of these is within half a mile of the settlement centre score 25 and do not award any further scores for this facility	If this facility can be reached before 0700 score 4	If the last bus service back to the settlement from this facility leaves after 2200 score 4	If it is possible to travel to and from this facility every day score 4	Score 4 if there is an hourly bus service to and from this facility on days when bus operates
If the closest of these is within 20 minutes bus journey score "3"	If this facility can be reached by before 0800 score 3	If the last bus service back to the settlement from this facility leaves between 1900 and 2100 score 3	If it is possible to travel to this facility every day except Sunday score 3	Score 3 if there is a frequent, but less than hourly bus service to and from this facility on days when bus operates
If the closest of these is within 40 minutes bus journey score "2"	If this facility can be reached by non-car travel before 0900 score 2	If the last bus back to the settlement from this facility is between 1700 and 1900 score 2	If it is possible to travel to and from this facility only Monday to Friday score 2	Score 2 if there is a choice of 2 or more bus times to and from the facility on days when bus operates
If the closest of these is within one hour's bus journey score "1"	If this facility can be reached by non car travel only after 0900 score 1	If the last bus journey back to the settlement from this facility to the settlement leaves before 1700 score 1	If it is only possible to travel to and from this facility fewer than five days a week score 1	Score 1 if it is only possible to travel to and from this facility once a day when bus operates
If the closest is more than one hour's bus journey or more than a 10 minute walk to the bus stop score ZERO and do not award any further scores for this facility	If this facility can be reached by bus only after 1000 score ZERO	If the last bus journey back to the settlement from this facility to the settlement leaves before 1600 score ZERO	If the bus to primary, secondary or further education facilities or nearest employment location does not run Mon - Fri score ZERO	Score ZERO if it is only possible to travel either to OR from this facility on days when bus operates

4.10 The public transport information has been taken from the Traveline South West website at:
www.travelinesw.com/swe/XSLT_TRIP_REQUEST2?language=en&timeOffset=15

4.11 Only services where the walk to the bus stop/train station is no more than 10 minutes (about 800 metres) are included. These 10 minutes are not included in the journey time assessed.

4.12 In addition, a connectivity score is calculated for availability of community transport, speed of internet connectivity, nearest petrol station, nearest car serving/MOT/repairs.

- Community Transport

4.13 Community transport can provide a key service to rural communities. There are a range of services available across the District , which have been scored as follows:

	Score
Book more than 24 hours in advance	3
Book 24 hours in advance	2
Book more than two days in advance	1
No coverage by community transport	0

4.14 Community transport service information has been taken from the Traveline South West website at:
www.travelinesw.com/swe/XSLT_TRIP_REQUEST2?language=en&timeOffset=15

- Internet Connectivity

4.15 The data used is taken from work undertaken by Hampshire County Council. Scores were given based on the speed of the network connection in the town/village.

	Score
Broadband >8mbps	4
broadband >2mbps < 8 mbps	3
broadband <= 2mbps	2

- Access to petrol stations and car serving/ MOT garages

4.16 Scores were again given based on how close these facilities are, weighted heavily for towns/villages which have them located in them.

- Petrol station

	Score
The closest is within half a mile of the settlement	25
The closest is within 3 miles	3
The closest is within 5 miles	2
The closest is within 10 miles	1
The closest is more than 10 miles away	0

- Car Servicing/MOT centre

	Score
The closest is within half a mile of the settlement	25
The closest is within 3 miles	3
The closest is within 5 miles	2
The closest is within 10 miles	1
The closest is more than 10 miles away	0

- 4.17 The accessibility and connectivity scores are combined to create a total score for each settlement. This illustrates how well provided a settlement is either by having facilities within them or by facilities being readily accessible. The scoring is weighted towards villages or towns which have a listed facility or service. In addition, places which have good public transport links will also score highly.
- 4.18 N.B. the scoring system is an integral part of the spreadsheet, and whilst the qualitative data was amended to reflect the Winchester District, the scoring and accompanying mathematical calculations recommended by CABE have not been changed.

- Population

- 4.19 Population gives an indication of a settlement's size and sustainability. Generally larger settlements can support a wider range of services and facilities.
- 4.20 There are various population statistics available, all of which are based on the 2001 Census. For example, the Office for National Statistics produces mid year estimates and Hampshire County Council calculates Small Area Population Forecasts every year. However, both of these are based at District, Ward or Parish level. To provide an estimate of the population by settlement, the following calculation was applied:
- 4.21 2001 Census figure (Table KS0010001) was used as a baseline and increased proportionately to reflect the increase expressed in the Hampshire County Council Small Area Population Forecast at 2009 (9.47%) This increase is then applied to the Neighbourhood statistics output areas which cover the settlement.
- 4.22 Only towns/villages with a population of 100 or more have been included within this study.

- Employment

- 4.23 A key component of sustainability is the economy. To establish the number of businesses in a Parish (not an individual settlement), non domestic rates data has been extracted from the Local Land and Property Gazetteer hub (including businesses, farms, hotels, shops and education facilities), with a base date of May 2011. Generally speaking those Parishes with larger settlements or with a number of smaller settlements have a greater number of commercial premises.

5 Results

- 5.1 The results for each settlement assessed are set out in Appendix 2
- 5.2 Through using the connectivity matrix it has been possible to collect a variety of information which can be used to inform the creation of a rural development strategy.
- 5.3 In addition to calculating a combined accessibility and connectivity score, the matrix also shows how self contained each place is by the number of facilities within the 'home' settlement.
- 5.4 By combining this data, plus its estimated population and employment data, it is possible to demonstrate the role of individual towns and villages within the District. The results are set out in table 4. For comparison, the table includes the 2009 scores and settlement level rankings.
- 5.5 As with any assessment of this nature there is no one clear element to dictate the final outcome, indeed this revised methodology highlights the need to consider a greater range of factors all of which contribute to the sustainability or otherwise of a settlement.

Table 4: Settlement Scores

Settlements are ordered by the combined connectivities and accessibility score, population and number of facilities in the 'home' settlement.

- Settlement Profiles

- 5.6 The 2009 topic paper included profiles for all the towns and villages listed as Level 1 or 2 in the settlement hierarchy. These profiles were updated and made available to assist the Blueprint discussions held by communities, www.community-blueprint.co.uk
- 5.7 CAGE suggested that profiles should be prepared for all settlements. However, given the number of smaller settlements in Winchester District, it would not be practical to prepare a full profile for each.
- 5.8 CAGE created a template following an officer/member workshop. This template was amended to suit the characteristics of the District and to include data that was available. Profiles were only created for those larger settlements that may be expected to deliver some growth in terms of housing, employment and community uses.
- 5.9 In summary, the Council populated the profiles with the factual data, and the profiles were forwarded to the relevant Parish Councils for completion with subjective/qualitative aspects to reflect their views and aspirations. Profiles for the larger settlements within the District are set out at appendix 3

- Settlement Hierarchy

- 5.10 CAGE's assessment of the 2009 Settlement Hierarchy was that it was sound but could be expanded to include:-
 - Widening the range of services considered
 - The quality of services
 - The vulnerability of services
 - The need for additional services
 - Functional relationships between the settlements – 'Clusters'
- 5.11 In addition, consideration needs to be given to the concept of 'rural-proofing' planning policies to ensure that they are sensitive to the characteristics of rural communities and their corresponding settlement structures.
- 5.12 The connectivity assessment above includes an expanded list of services and facilities over and above those included in the 2009 assessment; this also picks up on quality of some services such as the speed of Broadband and the frequency of public transport. The concept of quality depends on the user and is often a relative rather than absolute value and for this reason has not been included extensively in this exercise.
- 5.13 The need for additional services is to some extent picked up through the more detailed responses to Blueprint, although this must acknowledge that the 'need' for additional services does not reflect the actual viability of such a service – often 'need' equates to desire in this context.
- 5.14 The functional relationship between settlements or 'clusters' is something that, given the size and complexity of the District, already occurs but is not documented. The CAGE report explicitly commented on this element in that the sustainability of rural settlements is dependant on access to core services. Access in this context may be either within a settlement or accessible in a neighbouring one.

- 5.15 It is important to acknowledge that many settlements do not operate in isolation. From the information collated detailing where local communities are most likely to travel to a facility, it is possible to indicate the spatial relationships between the larger/smaller settlements and to understand settlement dependencies, in terms of access to day-to-day key services and facilities.
- 5.16 The map at Appendix 4 illustrate two levels of dependencies; firstly at a very local level where smaller settlements interact with each other often to access a primary school or village shop or pub. Then at a higher level where a larger settlement is used by a number of smaller settlements to access a greater range of services. All settlements in the District look to Winchester for some services, as well as larger towns outside the District.
- 5.17 There are some obvious hierarchical relationships illustrate on the maps particularly with New Alresford and Bishops Waltham, where many smaller settlements look to these. Similarly Wickham, Colden Common and Kings Worthy also act as a focus for a number of surrounding villages.

6 Conclusions – the revised settlement strategy

- 6.1 All of the elements from the CABE report have been used to inform the preparation of a revised settlement strategy for the rural part of the District.
- 6.2 Application of the various elements listed above has created a more sophisticated set of data for each settlement. This, together with population/employment data all contribute to a more thorough understanding, not only of the roles of each settlement, but how they relate to and rely on each other for specific services or functions. These scores are set out in table 4
- 6.3 A key element of the CABE report was the need to involve communities when addressing rural issues. Blueprint provided this opportunity and comments received (summarised on page 6 of this paper) highlight that many rural communities recognise the need for more development, albeit at an appropriate scale, to ensure that they can continue to remain as attractive locations to live and work.
- 6.4 Assessment of accessibility and combined connectivity scores, together with the number of facilities in the ‘home’ settlement and level of population, reveals that both Bishops Waltham and New Alresford perform better. In addition these two settlements serve a wide rural catchment, as illustrated on the cluster diagram. Given their size and function they are capable of meeting many of the development needs identified through Blueprint and have the potential for these to be delivered through a range of sites and redevelopment opportunities.
- 6.5 There are also a number of smaller settlements that score well, taking a combination of connectivity score, population and 2009 service score it is evident that Colden Common, Kings Worthy, Swanmore, Waltham Chase, Wickham, and Denmead perform well and provide a range of local services. Also these all rely to some extent on New Alresford or Bishops Waltham, in addition to Winchester or more urban areas outside of the District. Blueprint responses also reiterated their importance as local service centres for the daily needs of many smaller rural settlements.
- 6.6 In addition other settlements that have a higher score in one or other elements include Otterbourne which has a high connectivity score due to its location – yet has fewer facilities itself and its population is significantly lower. West Meon and Twyford also score well but have significantly lower populations (less than 1000). Similarly South Wonston has a reasonable population and connectivity score but has fewer services itself.
- 6.7 The application of the revised methodology has reaffirmed the appropriateness of specifying the higher order settlements in the District as:-

New Alresford
Bishops Waltham
Colden Common

Denmead,
Kings Worthy
Swanmore
Waltham Chase
Wickham

- 6.8 Given the size of the Winchester District, the remainder of the settlements are very diverse. Some have larger populations with only a few key services and others have more facilities reflecting their historic roles. Both CABI and the Taylor Report advise that planning policy for rural communities needs to take account of various factors which may affect their viability as communities. Taylor also emphasised that allowing limited development may provide an opportunity to address local housing issues and to support existing service provision. Responses to Blueprint also confirmed an acknowledgement by some quite small communities that they wished, for example, to plan for an ageing population through the possibility of providing for some small scale development, allowing local people to downsize and releasing larger properties to families.
- 6.9 Like the Taylor Report, the Council has acknowledged that there is need for flexibility in rural policies directed at smaller, more remote communities.
- 6.10 The Council's response to Blueprint, and to the evidence set out in this paper, is contained within 'Plans for Places'. This incorporates both opinion and data and includes a revised settlement strategy for those settlements that lie within the Market Towns and Rural Area. The revised strategy does not attempt to distinguish between those settlements within or outside the South Downs National Park. It is their connectivity, functionality and relationships with each other in terms of providing services and facilities which are the key considerations, rather than whether they lie in a specially designated area. However, the importance of maintaining the rural character of settlements was a key matter raised through Blueprint and will be an important factor in assessing the acceptability of development.
- 6.11 A key challenge for Plans for Places is to achieve a balance between the aspirations expressed through Blueprint with the updated statistics and analysis of technical data. It is important to consider a package of measures, not just individual elements of data or opinion.
- 6.12 Blueprint responses for Bishops Waltham and New Alresford accept the need to change and to respond to local housing, employment and community needs, and the relevant Town/Parish Councils made various suggestions to maintain and improve the role of these settlements as the key service centres.
- 6.13 In addition to new development it is considered appropriate that these settlements may also wish to realise their aspirations through:
- maintaining and strengthening the shopping, service, tourism and employment role of these settlements;

- ensuring that greenfield releases are aimed mainly at supporting this role or meeting other local needs;
 - protecting the adjoining National Park and other important aspects of the environment and setting of the settlements, or gaps between settlements;
 - creating development opportunities by relocating/redeveloping certain uses or areas, provided important uses and facilities are re-provided in locations that will continue to serve the settlements;
 - maintaining and where possible improving public transport provision;
 - provision of adequate and timely infrastructure in conjunction with development and to address existing deficiencies.
- 6.14 Colden Common, Denmead, Kings Worthy, Swanmore, Waltham Chase, and Wickham all have quite different characteristics, but they all perform roles as locally-important service centres. The Blueprint responses show a desire to maintain and improve local facilities and public transport in these settlements, often with suggestions for new facilities or services, along with some localised concerns about the capacity of particular facilities or infrastructure. These smaller service centres acknowledge the need to provide for local housing needs, especially for affordable housing and older persons' housing. At the same time they are nervous about the threats they perceive to their particular settlement character and, like many rural settlements, these villages have a strong local community spirit.
- 6.15 Like the larger settlements, these also have aspirations they may wish to see delivered through, for example:
- emphasising the need to maintain and improve local facilities and public transport provision;
 - enabling small-scale business developments, particularly for local start-up businesses;
 - promoting development suited to local housing needs, particularly for affordable housing or housing for older people;
 - conserving local features which are important in giving the settlements their character, particularly those identified in Village Design Statements or the District Landscape Character Assessment.
 - protecting the adjoining National Park and identified gaps between settlements;
- 6.16 The remainder of the settlements in the Market Towns and Rural Area are very varied in terms of their size, character, level of service provision, etc. Many are very modest, both in terms of their population and their level of service provision. This is typical of a diverse rural area where there is a high degree of personal mobility and choice, which creates a complex pattern of settlement dependencies.
- 6.17 The assessment of these settlements does not reveal those that are explicitly stronger or more sustainable as they all have their own strengths and potential weaknesses. Although some of these settlements may be very small and do not necessarily perform well on traditional 'sustainability' criteria, almost all acknowledged through Blueprint the need for some housing, often smaller affordable units or housing for older people.

- 6.18 Plans for Places therefore proposes that for these settlements, the approach should be aimed at delivering the modest levels and types of development which they want, and which will also help to maintain their local population and services, whilst respecting their concerns about its impact. The diversity of settlements in this group means that some settlements have more to offer than others, and the approach reflects this.
- 6.19 It is suggested that all of the settlements in this group would be subject to a criteria-based policy which would allow for small-scale development appropriate to each settlement. It is not intended to quantify the amount of new development involved, as this will be locally-determined having regard to the needs of the local residents, businesses and services and in accordance with the criteria.
- 6.20 The details of the policy will therefore need to set out appropriate guidance for applicants and indicate that development will necessarily be of a limited scale, given the modest size and sustainability credentials of the settlements involved. But the criteria should also have the flexibility to allow local communities to determine, through their Neighbourhood or Parish Plans, whether additional development is needed to improve the sustainability of a settlement, respond to local needs, or to deliver local community aspirations. The matters to be covered by the criteria should include:-
- Identifying the settlements that the policy applies to (either a list or a definition);
 - Type and general level of development in relation to the size/form of the settlement;
 - Defining acceptable locations for development (not necessarily site-specific) to contain settlements within recognised limits and prevent damage to their settings;
 - Limitations on the scale of development to address local concerns, unless the need for development has been identified through a Neighbourhood or Parish Plan and would benefit the local community;
 - Consideration of the impact of proposals on the environment, infrastructure and setting of the settlement,
 - Proposals within the South Downs National Park, or affecting other key national or local designations, should be consistent with its identified purposes.
- 6.21 The revised approach is included within Plans for Places and is subject to consultation (27 June – 8 August 2011). The responses to the consultation will be taken into account in determining whether the recommended approach is correct and in developing the detailed policy wording for inclusion within the Core Strategy.

Appendix 1: Facilities Questionnaire sent to Parish Councils

Please take time to fill in this table to help us understand where you go to access different services and facilities.

Below we have provided a list of services that people are likely to need access to, please indicate where this service is that the residents of your village are likely to use – please name the village/town that you have to go to:-

(please complete one form for each settlement in your parish)

NAME OF VILLAGE :

Appendix 2: Settlement Connectivity/Accessibility Assessments

The Accessibility scores are calculated as follows:

DISTANCE	HOURS OF ACCESS POSSIBLE BY BUS/TRAIN		ACCESSIBILITY OF FACILITY BY BUS/TRAIN	CONVENIENCE OF BUS/TRAIN JOURNEY
If the closest of these is within half a mile of the settlement centre score 25 and do not award any further scores for this facility	If this facility can be reached before 0700 score 4	If the last bus service back to the settlement from this facility leaves after 2200 score 4	If it is possible to travel to and from this facility every day score 4	Score 4 if there is an hourly bus service to and from this facility on days when bus operates
If the closest of these is within 20 minutes bus journey score "3"	If this facility can be reached by before 0800 score 3	If the last bus service back to the settlement from this facility leaves between 1900 and 2100 score 3	If it is possible to travel to this facility every day except Sunday score 3	Score 3 if there is a frequent, but less than hourly bus service to and from this facility on days when bus operates
If the closest of these is within 40 minutes bus journey score "2"	If this facility can be reached by non-car travel before 0900 score 2	If the last bus back to the settlement from this facility is between 1700 and 1900 score 2	If it is possible to travel to and from this facility only Monday to Friday score 2	Score 2 if there is a choice of 2 or more bus times to and from the facility on days when bus operates
If the closest of these is within one hour's bus journey score "1"	If this facility can be reached by non car travel only after 0900 score 1	If the last bus journey back to the settlement from this facility to the settlement leaves before 1700 score 1	If it is only possible to travel to and from this facility fewer than five days a week score 1	Score 1 if it is only possible to travel to and from this facility once a day when bus operates
If the closest is more than one hour's bus journey or more than a 10 minute walk to the bus stop score ZERO and do not award any further scores for this facility	If this facility can be reached by bus only after 1000 score ZERO	If the last bus journey back to the settlement from this facility to the settlement leaves before 1600 score ZERO	If the bus to primary, secondary or further education facilities or nearest employment location does not run Mon - Fri score ZERO	Score ZERO if it is only possible to travel either to OR from this facility on days when bus operates

Location characteristics & setting

South Downs National Park: The National Park borders the northern edge of the settlement of Bishops Waltham.

Designated wildlife sites: The sites designated for their nature conservation interest mainly cover wetland and ancient woodland habitats. The Moors SSSI lies on the south eastern boundary of Bishops Waltham part of which is also a Local Nature Reserve. A number of SINCs have been designated around the settlement.

Heritage sites: Within the centre of Bishops Waltham lies the Bishop's Palace and fish ponds which are scheduled monuments. The Palace is also listed as a historic park. To the east of the settlement lies another scheduled monument at Two Bowl Barrels.

Flood zone 3: Bishops Waltham lies in the upper reaches of the River Hamble. An area of flood zone 3 runs through Bishops Waltham across the ponds in the centre of the town.

Conservation Area or listed buildings: There are 119 listed buildings within the settlement; most are around the town centre which makes up a large part of the Conservation Area.

Agricultural land – best and most versatile⁹: The higher quality agricultural land lies predominantly in the area of the national park. The area immediately to the south of the settlement is lower grade agricultural land, but further to the South around Durley Street and Shirrell Heath is again higher quality agricultural land.

What makes Bishops Waltham special?

'Bishops Waltham is a well defined town in an attractive rural setting, with many natural environmental features'. The centre has much historical interest, having developed around a medieval town. The mature trees enhance the character of this area. There is a locally based economy and a strong community spirit (Bishop's Waltham a Market Town Healthcheck January 2010).

Bishops Waltham is unique and a gateway to the South Downs National Park (Blueprint Responses).

The High Street makes Bishop's Waltham special – Shopping and Eating choices top of list in "Things I love about Bishop's Waltham" Market Town Healthcheck survey.

What are the main opportunities for Bishops Waltham?

- Creation of a Business Park; Community control of Palace Ponds; Facilitate "Safe Cycling" routes within the Parish and also to link with others; Improve diversity of sports & leisure activities; Encourage positive participation in local issues More suitable "social housing" (Bishop's Waltham A Market Town Healthcheck January 2010).
- BW could be promoted as a gateway to the South Downs National Park; the appearance of the town could be improved.
- There is an opportunity to develop small business units and light industrial units on suitable sites (shared services and facilities).
- Can investigate potential for providing an indoor sports and leisure centre (to include gym, pool, tennis/badminton etc) and establish more youth clubs and facilities (Blueprint Responses).
- High speed broadband should be provided (Blueprint Responses). and all forms of renewable energy and sustainable heat production should be encouraged

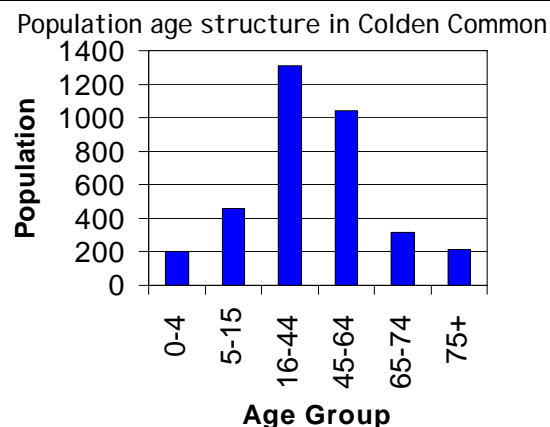

What are the challenges facing Bishops Waltham over the next 20 years?

- Lack of expansion opportunities in existing businesses; Lack of "user friendly" public transport; Lack of an integrated transport system; Lack of appropriate car parking facilities; Excessive water abstracted from chalk aquifers resulting in the loss of water in the North Pond; Increasing quantity and speed of road traffic; Housing development pressures; Lack of local work opportunities (Bishop's Waltham A Market Town Healthcheck January 2010).
- Low tourism activity: increase the accommodation for tourists by supporting B & B and small hotel developments
- There is a need for additional housing together with the appropriate infrastructure prior to development. Need to provide affordable homes (2/3 beds with gardens and parking), provide social housing (part rent/purchase) and provide sheltered accommodation near the town centre, provision of modern premises for a medical centre. Young people not living at home need to have supported accommodation. The rural character of the area needs to be maintained by protecting local gaps with Swanmore, Waltham Chase, Durley and Upham (Blueprint Responses).
- There is a mismatch between skills and expectation of local jobs available – need policy to limit use of new employment allocations to business sectors poorly represented in the catchment (Blueprint Responses).
- There is a need for better public transport to surrounding city centres including Winchester – particularly in the evenings and also during the day for the elderly (Blueprint Responses).
- No Grade 1 land in the surrounding area to be put to alternative uses and should be protected from development.
- Sustain the local shops (variety, quality and pricing) – retain retailing premises within the High Street.

What makes Colden Common special?

Colden Common is a thriving village lying on the outskirts of the South Downs National Park. The approach to the village is predominantly rural, and the main areas of housing are concealed from the main thoroughfare. The settlement lies close to many remnants of ancient woodland, part of the former Forest of Bere. The avenue of lime trees leading from the B3335 to Brambridge House on the west of the village is one of the longest in Hampshire. Colden Common Park lies outside the settlement boundary, but is in one of the highest locations in the village. These aspects of the local landscape are valued highly by the local community (draft VDS).

What are the main opportunities for Colden Common?

- Provide affordable housing for local people
- Provide opportunities for local businesses.
- Promote links with South Downs National Park

What are the challenges facing Colden Common over the next 20 years?

- Provision of affordable housing
- Supporting an aging population
- Support local businesses.
- Support existing facilities and services.
- Provision of suitable broadband
- Protection of the countryside outside the built up area of the settlement.
- Retaining identity and character of the village; maintain a development gap with other settlements.
- Encourage natural links to the South Downs National Park
- Maintain and increase wildlife corridors through the village

Location characteristics & setting

South Downs National Park: The South Downs National Park lies just to the north of the village, although part of the parish is within the National Park.

Designated wildlife sites: There are a number of SINCs on the outskirts of the settlement mainly covering meadows, woodlands (including ancient and semi-natural woodlands) and Anthill Common. A total of 17 SINCs are within the parish of Denmead.

Heritage sites: There are no designated heritage sites within the immediate vicinity of Denmead

Flood zone 3: Denmead lies along the upper reaches of the Wallington River which flows into Portsmouth Harbour. The flood zone 3 area cuts through the settlement along Harvest Road and across Hambledon Road. A substantial area of housing is also covered by Flood zone 3 from the pond in the area northwest of Creech View across Forest Mead to the field drains to the southeast of the settlement.

Conservation Area or listed buildings: There are 4 grade II listed buildings within the settlement boundary.

Agricultural land – best and most versatile⁹: High grade agricultural land lies to the north of Denmead.

What makes Denmead special?

Denmead has a rural character and an active village community. The countryside penetrates to the centre of the village and this open space supports a variety of wildlife and gives the village centre a rural image which is enjoyed by both the residents of Denmead and also people coming to shop in Denmead or to walk on the lanes.

What are the main opportunities for Denmead?

- Recognise a need and opportunity to plan for change
- There is an opportunity to maintain a gap between Denmead and Southwick and the major development at Waterlooville to preserve the village identity
- Provide affordable housing for local people
- Provide opportunities for new small businesses.
- Enhance the village centre.

What are the challenges facing Denmead over the next 20 years?

- Provision of affordable housing
- Supporting limited and controlled building of market housing targeting primarily brownfield sites.
- Retaining identity and character of the village.
- Protection of the Denmead gap
- Supporting an ageing population through the development of residential homes
- Support the development of small business and start up businesses taking account the relationship with Waterlooville.
- Providing good public or alternative transport links
- Support existing retail and encourage new retail; enhance the local centre.
- Providing additional facilities and recreational space needed
- Making sure infrastructure is provided at the right time to meet the needs of Denmead
- Enhancing the appearance of the village centre needs without compromising the recent works completed
- Provision of suitable broadband
- Provide additional facilities (larger hall).

Location characteristics & setting

South Downs National Park: The National Park borders the south eastern edge of the settlement of Kings Worthy.

Designated wildlife sites: The River Itchen flows along the south eastern edge of the settlement. The river and its wetlands are designated as a SSSI and the channels as a SAC.

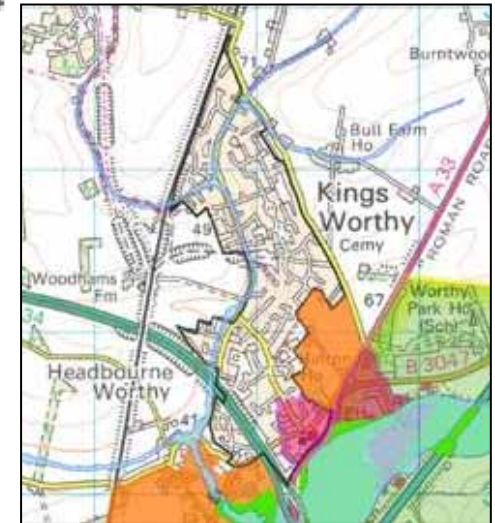

Heritage sites: A Scheduled Monument lies to the West of the settlement which covers an Iron Age Field System, Banjo Enclosure and Romano-British Villa. To the east lie two more scheduled monuments at the Anglo-Saxon Cemetery In Worthy Park and at the late Iron Age Settlement Site of Grace's Farm. To the south lies the site of St Gertrude's Chapel.

Flood zone 3: It appears that springs flow north to south through Kings Worthy into the Itchen River. This area has been identified as a flood zone 3 area and follows Springvale Road and Hookpit Farm Road flowing into the watercress beds at Headbourne Worthy.

Conservation Area or listed buildings: There are 14 listed buildings in the settlement boundary mainly clustered in the south of the settlement between Church Lane and London Road. This area also forms part of the Kings Worthy Conservation Area. A second conservation area at Abbots Worthy lies adjacent, just outside the settlement boundary.

Agricultural land – best and most versatile⁹: Kings Worthy is surrounded by high grade agricultural land.

What makes Kings Worthy special?

Kings Worthy has a rural character even though the village also has a suburban element. The parishes benefit from other good community facilities and services such as the pharmacy, post office and general stores as well as open space (Blueprint Response).

What are the main opportunities for Kings Worthy?

- There is an opportunity to provide some well-designed housing development on small vacant plots (Blueprint Response).
- The primary school has capacity to take additional pupils from existing development (Blueprint Response).
- There is an opportunity to expand the day centre (Blueprint Response).
- There are opportunities to enhance the public transport system which is good, but the earlier morning and late evening services could be improved (Blueprint Response).
- Provide help with noise abatement to the properties along the A34 (Blueprint Response).
- Opportunities should be provided for art works in the public realm wherever possible (Village Design Statement 2006).
- Opportunities should be sought to increase open space and play areas (Village Design Statement 2006).

What are the challenges facing Kings Worthy over the next 20 years?

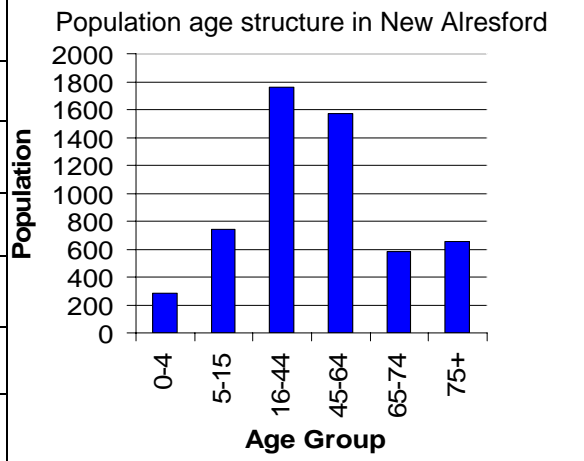

- Retaining identity and character of the settlement
- Provision of small family homes
- Supporting limited and controlled building of market housing on small vacant plots which would not affect environment of existing residents.
- Making sure infrastructure is adequate for any new development and provided at the right time
- Supporting an aging population
- Providing improved public transport links (early morning and later evening services)
- Making sure infrastructure is provided at the right time to meet the needs of Kings Worthy and Headbourne Worthy
- Provision of suitable broadband and technology to support working from home.
- May need more secondary school provision to meet demand from on-going housing development.
- Health facilities may be at capacity as is the day centre.

Location characteristics & setting

South Downs National Park: The South Downs National Park lies to the southwest of the settlement of New Alresford.

Designated wildlife sites: New Alresford lies in the upper reaches of the River Itchen, an internationally important chalk river. Most of the designated sites therefore cover the riparian habitats running to the west and north of the town. The river is designated as a SSSI (as has Alresford Pond) and as a SAC. A section of the R. Alre and water meadows/cressbeds to the north of the settlement is designated as SINC as is Tichborne Down (Golf Course) to the south. The churchyard at St Johns has also been designated as a SINC for its grassland interest.

Heritage sites: There are four historic parks located around Alresford: Arlebury Park House to the north, Old Alresford House and Upton House to the north west and Tichborne Park to the South.

Flood zone 3: The River Itchen is identified as flood zone 3 along this section of the river (running to the north and west of the settlement).

Conservation Area or listed buildings: The Conservation Area covers the area of the main town centre from the railway to the north, westwards along the Avenue and along East Street to the entrance of Langton House.

Agricultural land – best and most versatile⁹: New Alresford is surrounded by high grade agricultural land.

What makes New Alresford special?

'New Alresford is a popular place to live, nestled in attractive countryside with reasonable road links giving easy access to many major conurbations in the southeast. Residents feel it is a cheerful and friendly community with a compact town centre, clear town boundaries and beautiful surrounding countryside. There is a strong sense of community'. (Alresford Healthcheck 2008).

There is a 'splendid array of independent suppliers of goods and services which is a determining factor in the make-up of the town's character'. (Alresford Healthcheck 2008).

The river is a valuable asset to the area (Blueprint response).

What do you see as the main opportunities for New Alresford?

- There is an opportunity to plan for growth to 'increase the proportion of the population that is economically active and to ensure that businesses can thrive in Alresford and be attracted to it' (Alresford Healthcheck 2008)
- There is an opportunity to relocate some of the industrial/employment sites within the town to allow these sites to be redeveloped to meet the needs of the town. (Alresford Healthcheck 2008)
- There is an opportunity to provide affordable housing in the surrounding villages rather than just in the town (Blueprint response).
- There is potential to redevelop some of the school sites (Blueprint response).
- There is an opportunity to provide improved services for the older members of the community.
- There is the opportunity to make public transport more effective and serve the needs of the population.
- There is the opportunity to encourage new industries, encourage a more green economy and provide jobs in this field and new technology.

What are the challenges facing New Alresford over the next 20 years?

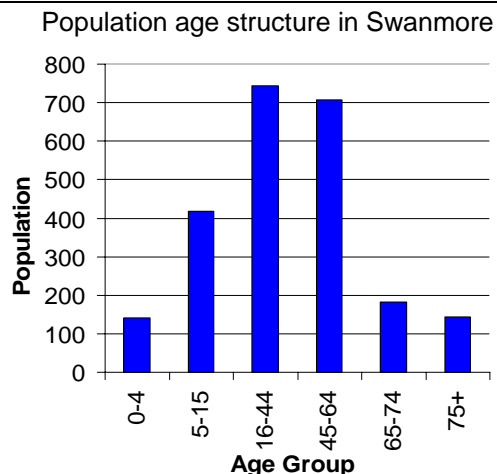

- Provision of social housing for local families
- Provision of 2-3 bedroom open market houses
- Retaining identity and character of Town
- Supporting and improving current provisions for an aging population
- Providing good public transport links that meet the work and educational needs of the population of Alresford and the surrounding villages
- Regulating lorry movements in town
- Supporting agricultural production albeit the town has little or no land in agricultural use with its boundaries
- Supporting the mix of small independent businesses and retailers
- Encouraging a wide variety of new enterprises including those in the green sector to attract people of all age groups and interests to the town
- Providing additional recreational space needed
- Making sure infrastructure is provided to meet the needs of Alresford
- Enable lower income local workers to live/remain in Alresford
- Adapting for climate change
- Provide a nursing home in the town
- Provide a range of employment opportunities
- Attract tourism

Location characteristics & setting

South Downs National Park: The National Park borders the north-eastern edge of the settlement of Swanmore.
Designated wildlife sites: There a large number of sites designated for their nature conservation interest around Swanmore. The Moors SSSIs and Waltham Chase Meadows SSSI are located within 2km of Swanmore. To the South East lies 'Dirty Copse' an area of ancient woodland designated as a SINC. Marsh's Meadow SINC is within the settlement boundary and New Road Meadow SINC, Belmont Meadow SINC and Ludwell Meadow SINC lie on the periphery of the settlement.
Heritage sites: To the north and east of Swanmore are historic parks at Swanmore Park, Hill Place and Holywell House.
Flood zone 3: Swanmore lies in the upper reaches of the River Hamble. The area of Flood Zone 3 follows the tributary of the Hamble running along 'The Lakes' to Gravel Hill.
Conservation Area or listed buildings: There are three listed buildings (Grade II) within the settlement: The Church of St Barnabas, The Rising Sun and Thatch Cottage.
Agricultural land – best and most versatile⁹: The higher quality agricultural land lies predominantly in the area of the national park. The area immediately to the south of the settlement is lower grade agricultural land, but further to the south around Durley Street and Shirrell Heath is again higher quality agricultural land.

What makes Swanmore special?

Swanmore has a distinct rural character which attracts many people to live in the area as do the schools (Blueprint - Village Plan Questionnaire)
The fields immediately to the north of Church Road are particularly important to the country village ambience of Swanmore (Swanmore Village Design Statement).

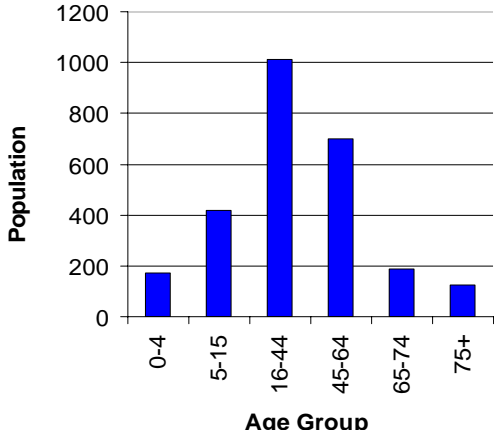

What are the main opportunities for Swanmore?

- Recognise a need and opportunity to plan for additional houses in future in small developments.
- Swanmore should remain dependent essentially on Bishops Waltham, Wickham and other centres for day-to-day services (Blueprint-Village Plan Questionnaire) – opportunity to support facilities in the village and neighbouring villages.
- Opportunities should be sought to encourage the involvement of schools, youth groups and other organisations in the local environment and wildlife for both awareness and education. (Swanmore Village Design Statement).

What are the challenges facing Swanmore over the next 20 years?

- Need for range of houses in future, but in smaller developments. The challenge is where these should be built and how to retain the rural character of Swanmore (Blueprint-Village Plan Questionnaire).
- Need to support an aging population (Blueprint-Village Plan Questionnaire).
- There is a need to accommodate for an increasingly aging population (Blueprint-Village Plan Questionnaire).
- Retaining the identity and unique character of the village (Swanmore Village Design Statement).
- Protection of the undeveloped gap between Swanmore and other villages (Swanmore Village Design Statement).
- The green corridor through the Lakes is particularly vulnerable to any thinning or interruption to its continuity (Swanmore Village Design Statement).

What makes Waltham Chase special?

Waltham Chase is a semi-rural village with good community spirit. Many enjoy the rural environment of the village.

What do you see as the main opportunities for Waltham Chase?

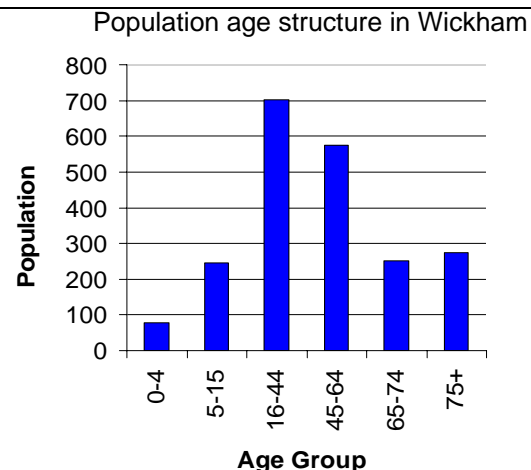

- Provide affordable housing for local people
- Provide new small business units
- Integrate public transport links
- Support younger residents by providing facilities for meeting socially (9-15 yrs) and reintroducing non vocational courses at Swanmore College of Technology
- Provide mobile health services.
- Use local schools and village halls more for events, health services and classes.
- Promote energy saving technology within the village.

What are the challenges facing Waltham Chase over the next 20 years?

- Provision of affordable housing for young (particularly affordable rent)
- Supporting an aging population (sheltered accommodation/bungalows)
- Retaining semi-rural feel and character of settlement and keeping the existing gap to prevent coalescence.
- Enable small developments in centres rather than larger developments
- Making sure infrastructure is adequate for any new development (issues with drainage).
- Lack of health facilities.
- Support existing facilities (post office)
- Social housing for people with a local connection.
- Supporting rural and small businesses.
- Providing good public or alternative transport links.

South Downs National Park: Wickham lies on the southern tip of the South Downs National Park. None of the National Park is within the settlement boundary.

Designated wildlife sites: There are a number of SINC's in the vicinity of Wickham mainly protecting small areas of ancient and semi-natural woodland.

Heritage sites: There are two historic parks on the edge of the village; Park Place and Rookesbury Park School.

Flood zone 3: The River Meon flows through Wickham just behind the square. An area of flood zone 3 runs along the course of the river and its floodplain.

Conservation Area or listed buildings: There are around 63 listed buildings within the village mainly centred on the square which is also covered by the Wickham Conservation Area.

Agricultural land – best and most versatile⁹: The area around Wickham is predominantly higher quality agricultural land. To the east of the A32 is lower grade agricultural land.

What makes Wickham special?

Wickham Parish Plan 2004:

- Semi-rural village atmosphere and friendly people

Wickham Village Design Statement:

- Compact historic village based around a medieval square.

Blueprint 2010:

- The peaceful compact village and its attractive rural setting
- Residents value Wickham's strong community spirit and rural setting.

What do you see as the main opportunities for Wickham?

- Opportunities for very limited infill development and for small housing development of up to 50 houses – particularly to the north of the village
- Support for existing businesses and a need for additional business units to create local employment
- Opportunity for additional recreational space, particularly to the north of the village

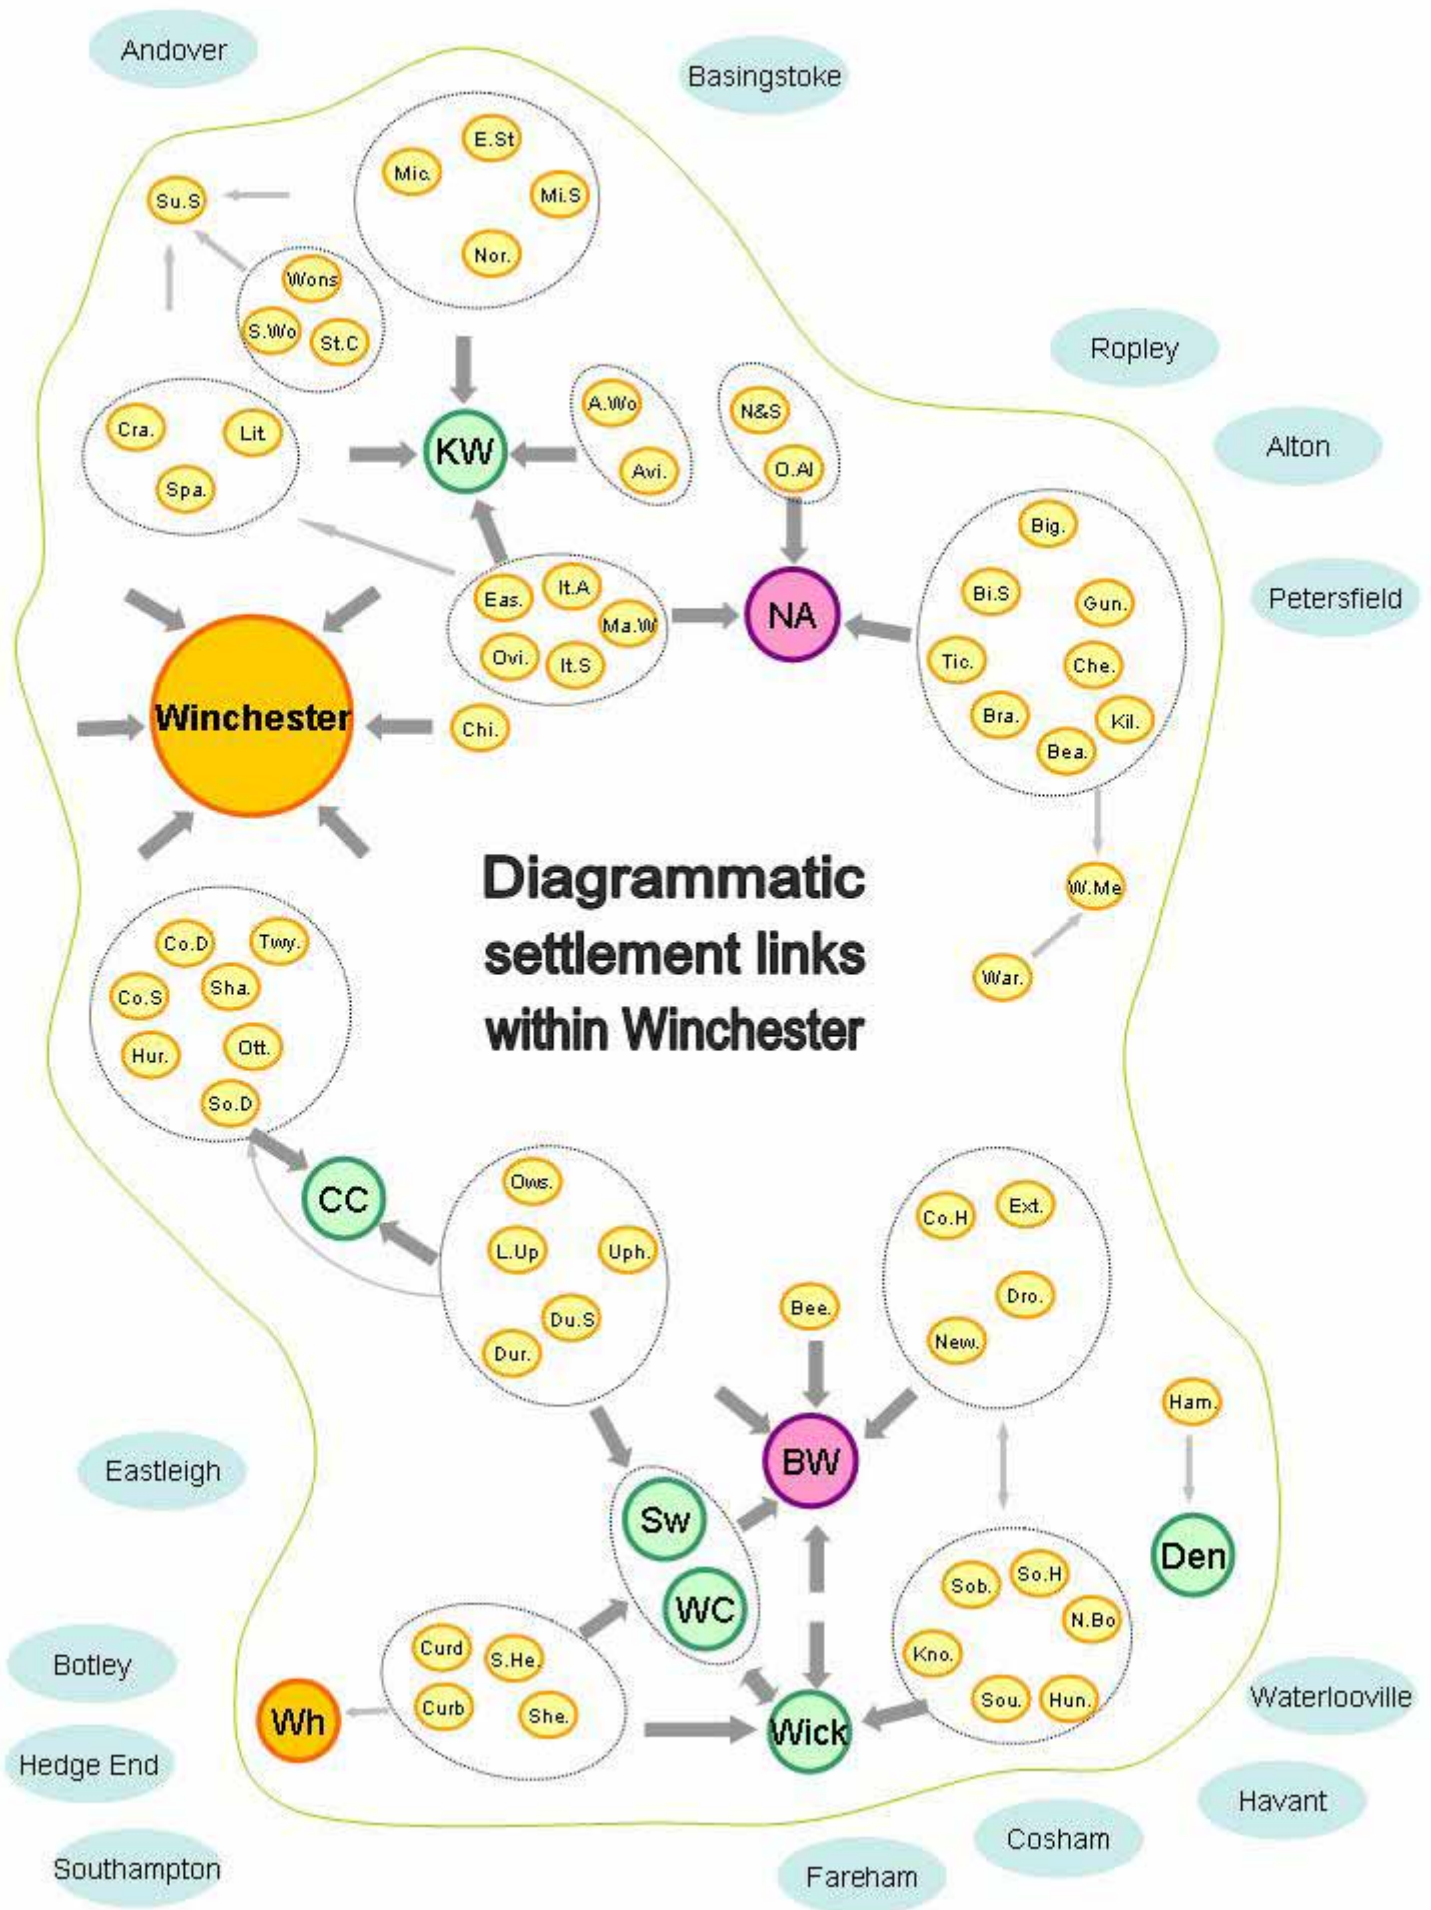

What are the challenges facing Wickham over the next 20 years?

- Wickham has an imbalance in its present housing stock and all future development should be planned with the intention of rectifying this problem. It is essential to increase both the amount of mid-range private market housing and the ratio of this section to affordable housing to encourage young (working) families to the village
- Retaining identity and character of the settlement; maintain a development gap with other settlements – particularly Knowle and the proposed SDA
- Impact of the Fareham SDA on Wickham.
- Provision of affordable housing
- Starter homes to encourage young people to stay in the settlement
- Properties for elderly to downsize to
- Poor infrastructure – particularly drainage and flooding problems, will be intensified if there is further development
- Addressing use of roads by heavy lorries and noise
- Lack of car parking in the Square
- Providing good public or alternative transport links
- Supporting the mix of small independent businesses and retailers;
- Providing additional open space/recreational space needed
