

Gareth Ball

---

From: Gareth Ball
Sent: 01 December 2016 10:15
To: [REDACTED]
Subject: RE: 16/00294/CARAVN

Dear [REDACTED]

That is fine, could you please email me once it has been removed so I can visit the site?

Good luck with the removal on the weekend,

Gareth Ball

-----Original Message-----

From: [REDACTED] [mailto:[REDACTED]@yahoo.co.uk]
Sent: 30 November 2016 11:19
To: Gareth Ball
Subject: RE: 16/00294/CARAVN

Dear Gareth

Thank you for your email.

Due to unforeseen circumstances having to remove a number of glazing bars to get the caravan out I can not do it until Saturday when I have assistance.

Regards [REDACTED]

Sent from: YOGA Tablet 2-1050F

On 30 Nov 2016 10:13, GBall@winchester.gov.uk wrote:

>
> Dear [REDACTED]
>
>
>
> The issue was not the location but that we suspected it was being lived in.
>
>
>
> If you were planning to remove it nevertheless, that is fine and I will try to pass by today and will inform you if the case is closed.
>
> Also, if the caravan has been removed, there is no need to complete the paperwork.
>
>
>
> Thank you for the reply,
>
>
>
> Gareth Ball
>

>
>
> From: [REDACTED]mailto:[REDACTED]@yahoo.co.uk]
> Sent: 28 November 2016 18:56
> To: Gareth Ball
> Subject: 16/00294/CARAVN

>
>
>
> Dear Mr Ball

>
> I have received the paperwork hand delivered

>
> Firstly as an ordinary man with no knowledge of planning law,i had no idea that putting a caravan in the greenhouse was against the law.

>
> It was not lived in-it was just there before i moved it to a friends house who was going to use it in his garden for his son to live in

>
> .Since receiving your your paperwork i have now moved it off site,it will never return.

>
> Please call and check if you wish,it has now gone.

>
> I hope this now satisfies,not understanding the planning law was my mistake.

>
> Regards

>
> [REDACTED]