YOUR COMMENTS ON THE CASE

The land is being used for purposes without requisite permission.

The current use of the land is incongruous with the surrounding locality and is detrimental to the character of the location.

The appellant should cease using the land for storage and equestrian purposes and remove the unpermitted buildings, fencing, storage, caravans and vehicles, plus remove the hard surfacing as requested and all rubble, debris and materials to a legal dumping site.

The land should be return to grass as stated.
